The Kite looks well when it is up in the air, and John is going to take his out and fly it. He will not stay out late, but come home soon to study.

From cousin Sophronia.

THE YOUNG SOLDIER.

Look at this young ensign, how fine he looks with his banner and his sword. Wouldn't you like to be a soldier? to fight for your country?

THE YOUNG SOLDIER.

This soldier has got leave of absence for a few days, and has joined a party of hunters. Here he is with his horn, whip, cap, and dog.

THE YOUNG SOLDIER.

Here is an old Turkish officer, who is just going to fight; see he has drawn his sabre, and is holding out his shield to defend himself.

THE YOUNG SOLDIER.

This is a soldier returning from the hunt, as it is time for him to join his regiment; which has received orders to march to another barracks.

THE YOUNG SOLDIER.

Here is a soldier going to battle with his knapsack on his back, and his gun in his hand, he is going to meet his fellow soldiers.

THE YOUNG SOLDIER.

This a soldier who fights with a spear. In olden times, spears and arrows, were used in war; but now, guns, rifles, cannons and swords are used.

THE YOUNG SOLDIER.

This is an officer of a company of soldiers, he has drawn his men up in a line, and is now telling them how they must act when they are in battle.

THE YOUNG SOLDIER.

This man is a Herald ; it is his duty to proclaim the commander's orders to the soldiers throughout the camp. See, he has a trumpet.

James has a dancing toy, and his dog barks at it, when he pulls the string. He plays with it after school is out and then he learns his lessons.
